Walt Disney's Carolwood Barn
5202 Zoo Dr.

Walt Disney was a huge train enthusiast who spent hours building miniatures and model trains in a red barn he had built at his residence in Holmby Hills. In 1999, Walt Disney's family moved the barn to Griffith Park for others to enjoy. Visit the Carolwood Barn today to see trains of all scale, many of which were donated by animators and friends who shared Disney's hobby.

Mike Eberts at the 1933 Firefighters Memorial
About a quarter-mile from Amir's Garden

A quarter-mile hike up the North Trail beyond Amir's Garden, is the Firefighter's Memorial, commemorating fallen heroes from one of California's deadliest fires. In 1933, a brush fire in Mineral Wells Canyon turned deadly when winds shifted. Dozens were killed and hundreds more injured. Historian and author Mike Eberts will recount this fateful story near the place where it occurred.

*The Firefighter's Memorial is about a 35-minute hike up a fairly steep fire road. Wear good footwear, bring water, and prepare for exposure to the sun.

SITE 23

The Greek Theatre
2700 N. Vermont Ave.

In 1919, Griffith J. Griffith's will established a trust fund for the construction of a world-class observatory and Greek Theatre, to be built in Griffith Park. Eleven years later the Greek Theatre was completed, quickly becoming one of Los Angeles's—and the nation's—most beloved outdoor entertainment venues. Now managed by the City of Los Angeles directly, the Greek has undergone extensive historic restoration, uncovering architectural details not visible for decades. Los Angeles Conservancy docents will be on site to take you on a brief tour behind the scenes of this renowned theatre.

*Tours of the Greek Theatre are approximately 25 minutes.

Some stairs and steps will be included. Masks are required to be worn when indoors.

*Food can be purchased at the nearby Franklin's Café & Market

Hours: 9:00 a.m. – 3:00 p.m.

SITE 24

Griffith Observatory
2800 E. Observatory Rd.

Since the doors opened in 1935, Griffith Observatory has become the most-visited public observatory in the world. Built with funds set aside expressly for its construction by Griffith J. Griffith, the Art Deco style Griffith Observatory (which was renovated and restored in the early 2000s) has become a symbol of Griffith Park and Los Angeles itself. Meet Observatory Staff and Museum Guides outside the Observatory for talks about this L.A. icon every half hour beginning at 10:00 am.

*If you plan to enter the Observatory following the talk, a mask is required.
Hours: 10:00 a.m. – 3:30 p.m.
(talks begin every half hour, excluding 11:30 a.m.)

View of the Hollywood Sign at the Griffith Observatory
2800 E. Observatory Rd.

Many people know that the Hollywood Sign originated as part of an ad campaign to sell lots in the Hollywoodland suburban housing development in 1923. But how did it transform from billboard to icon, representing not just real estate, but an entire industry, culture, and dream unique to Los Angeles? The Hollywood Sign Trust will be near the Griffith Observatory to share the details about Griffith Park's—and the world's—most recognizable sign.

Hours: 10:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.

SITE 26

Ellen Reid SOUNDWALK at the Griffith Observatory
2800 E. Observatory Rd.

Ellen Reid SOUNDWALK presented in Los Angeles by UCLA's Center for the Art of Performance (CAP UCLA), is a free, GPS-enabled work of public art that uses music to illuminate the natural environment of L.A.'s Griffith Park. Created by Pulitzer Prize-winning composer and sound artist Ellen Reid, the experience is guided by the listener: the path you choose dictates the music you hear, and no two visits will be exactly the same. After downloading the free app and putting on your headphones, you can explore Griffith Park in an entirely new way. CAP UCLA staff will be present near the Griffith Observatory to share insights about this artwork and how best to access it.

*Headphones will enhance the experience, so bring them along!

Hours: 9:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.

SITE 27

Dante's View

Dante's View in Griffith Park is a popular destination for many hikers—but how this mountain-top garden came to be and how it's got its name is a mystery for many. Clare Darden of the Griffith J. Griffith Charitable Trust will be waiting at Dante's View for those interested in a hike and a great story—not to mention a fantastic view.

* Reaching Dante's View requires hiking up a service road for several miles depending on where you begin. Wear good footwear, bring water, and prepare for exposure to the sun.

Hours: 9:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.

Fern Dell—the waterfall and the bridge
2333 Fern Dell Dr.

For nearly a century, Griffith Park's Fern Dell has been an urban oasis. In 1914, the Parks Department began adding ferns to the ravine and by the 1920s the first of Fern Dell's terraced pools and bridges were in place. Now a major restoration project is in progress to improve and sustain the habitat in Fern Dell for future generations to come. Meet members of Friends of Griffith Park in two different locations within Fern Dell—at the waterfall and the bridge—to learn more about its history and the exciting work taking place there.

Hours: 10:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.

SITE 30

The Trails Cafe and Historic-Cultural Monument No. 112

Tucked in Fern Dell is the outdoor Trails Cafe, a local hotspot specializing in baked goods, sandwiches, espresso, and tea. (The pie, in particular, is a must!) Chat with the owner and staff, who have been known to serve Griffith Park hikers with directions and hiking tips as well as coffee. While there, meet L.A. Conservancy docents to learn more about Fern Dell's historic elements, such as Historic-Cultural Monument No. 112, the only archeological landmark in Los Angeles. It designates a site where a Tongva-Gabrieliño village once stood.

*Trails Cafe closes at 2:00 p.m. but the L.A. Conservancy staff will be on site until 4:00 p.m.

Hours: 9:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Along with 30 different sites to visit, some special events are happening in Griffith Park in honor of its 125th anniversary, as well.

9:00 am: Hike Historic Griffith Park with Author Casey Schriener

To celebrate Griffith Park's milestone anniversary, join Casey Schreiner, founder of Modern Hiker and author of "Discovering Griffith Park" — the first in-depth guidebook for the park — on a guided hike from Fern Dell to the summit of Mount Hollywood. Learn why Griffith Park is the greatest city park in the country and meet other experts along the way! Registration for this event can be found here.

9:30 a.m.: Hike to Hidden Amir's Garden with the Sierra Club

Join the Sierra Club and hike to some historic and conservation-related sites to learn more about them and the history of Griffith Park's interior. Hikers will stop at Amir's Garden, the memorial to the 1933 firefighters, and Royce's Canyon to hear the stories of these significant places.

The hike is 4 miles long with 800 feet of elevation gain. Hikers will be primarily on fire roads with some hills. Bring hiking boots or shoes with good traction, water, suitable clothing layers, sunscreen, and a hat.

10:00 a.m.: Visit the Investigating Griffith Park exhibit at the Autry

The Autry Museum—including the exhibition Investigating Griffith Park and special programs—will be free to all visitors as part of the anniversary celebrations.

All visitors to the museum are required to provide proof of vaccination and to wear masks when indoors.

11:30 a.m.: Birthday Celebration and Independent Shakespeare Co. Performance

Visit the 125th Event's Hub to commemorate Griffith Park's 125th Anniversary! Craig Torres, Tongva Cultural Educator and Artist will welcome the crowd, followed by remarks from the L.A. Conservancy, Assemblymember Friedman's office and Councilmember Raman. Join us for cake and a lively and festive performance from Griffith Park's own Independent Shakespeare Co.

1:00 p.m.: Book Reading at the Autry: The Feral Boy Who Lives in Griffith Park

Visit the Autry at 1:00 p.m. to hear live reading of stories from the extended Second Edition of this short story collection. The largest urban park in the nation is the fertile ground where new myths and legends grow. New stories by Annette Zilinskas, Matt Oswalt, Hadley Meares, Tim Kirk, and others will be read by the authors and actors, with live musical accompaniment by Tom Moese.

Following the readings, the authors will sign copies of the newly released extended second edition, available in the museum store.

2:00 p.m.: Play Reading and Discussion at the Griffith Park Visitor Center Outdoor Amphitheatre

Antaeus Theatre Company presents a free reading of "90027: Griffith Park - The Fire In-Between" as part of Griffith Park's 125th Anniversary celebration. The live reading will be followed by a panel discussion featuring Playwright, Peppur Chambers; Director, Rondrell McCormick; Artistic Director, Bill Brochtrup; and Griffith Park Historian, Michael Eberts.

"90027: Griffith Park - The Fire In-Between" is part of Antaeus Theatre Company's original audio series, The Zip Code Plays: Los Angeles (learn more here).

2:30 p.m.: Book Reading at the Autry: Griffith Park A to Z

Join Casey Schreiner, author of Discovering Griffith Park, for a lively slideshow presentation through the alphabet of what makes Griffith Park one of the finest city parks in the entire country. Learn about groundbreaking aviators, ham-and-egg eating secret societies, famous animals, movie stars, citizen gardens, hiking routes, mysterious artists, and more!

Following the presentation Schreiner will sign copies of his L.A. Times bestselling book—the first and only in-depth guide for the park.

3:00 p.m.: Meditative Performance with floating at the Old Zoo

End your day of exploring Griffith Park on a special note. Join floating among the echoes of the Old Zoo for a patient practice in deep listening. Led by Taleen Kali, a Los Angeles native and multi-hyphenate arts practitioner, this meditative performance for singing bowls and bass guitar is an offering for grounding oneself in closer relationship to our local environment.

Notice of Filming

Photography and filming will be taken at the event for documentary and publicity purposes. By entering the event premises, you consent to such recording and its release, publication, exhibition or reproduction.
